Clydesdale Tower and Cleveland Tower

The Sentinels (Clydesdale Tower and Cleveland Tower) are two 31-storey (90 metre tall) residential tower blocks on Holloway Head in Birmingham. They were built as part of a major regeneration and council home building scheme following World War II which, in the 1960s and 1970s, saw the construction of hundreds of tower blocks across the city. The design of these two towers was inspired by Marina City in Chicago.
